Planes Smash German Transport Lines; Foe Clamps Anti-Invasion Reign of Terror on French Area

By GLADWIN HILL

LONDON, May 2 (AP)—Swinging into the most widespread attack on German rail transport thus far, allied air forces late today brought to more than 25 the number of heavy smashes made in about 24 hours against these centers of enemy defense.

Earlier, American Liberators bombed German installations in northern France, carrying the huge pre-invasion air offensive into its 18th consecutive day after 1,000 or more heavy bombers last night assaulted targets in France, Belgium, Italy and Germany.

Late announcements disclosed that American Marauder medium bombers and lighter Havocs had assaulted railway yards in Busigny, Valenciennes and Blanc-Misseron, while RAF Mitchells and Spitfires were scourging other and as yet unidentified railway targets in France and Belgium.

Up to 750 heavy British and Canadian bombers flew from England through a cloudless night against German aircraft, chemical, auto and explosive factories and against the rail targets on which the enemy must depend to meet invasion, the British air ministry announced. The others rose from Italian bases.

About 500 American planes were estimated authoritatively to have made today's attack, half of them Liberators and half Thund[illegible] and Mustang fighters.

Daylight R[illegible]

Formations [illegible] allied medium bombers and fighters crossed and recrossed the channel skies in the afternoon, after the Liberators had returned from their mission. The Liberators encountered no German fighters and an unusually small amount of flak. A communique identified the Liberators' target as the Pas-de-Calais area and said all planes returned.

Thunderbolt fighter-bombers, escorted by Thunderbolt fighters, attacked rail yards at Tergnier and Lemans deep in France while the Liberators were striking French soil closest to Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's invasion masses.

Lemans is one of the most important junctions in [illegible] France, a funnel for traffic between Paris and big western ports such as St. Nazaire and Brest.

The fighter-bombers' sweep raised to 21 the number of railroad objec-

Reich Launches Stern Regime To Blast Any Planned Revolt

By ROBERT DOWSON

LONDON, May 2 (UP)—Germany, in an 11th-hour attempt to prevent any revolt timed to coincide with an allied invasion, was reported today virtually to have quarantined 3,000,000 foreign workers in the reich and begun an unparalleled reign of terror in France.

Dispatches from neutral countries said the German government had prohibited foreign workers, most of them already little more than slaves, to travel on railways without special permission, which would be granted "only if the journey were absolutely necessary."

Mass Executions

Pierre Vienot, ambassador of the French national committee to London, charged in an interview that the Germans were carrying out mass murders in France in a futile effort to stamp out growing patriot resistance on the eve of the opening of a western front.

More than 100,000 of the Vichy French militia were cooperating with the gestapo and German military in the ruthless campaign of extermination, centering mainly in northern France opposite England, Vienot said.

Whole villages were being wiped out in the manner of Lidice, he asserted. In one town, he said, a movie theater was set afire and all inside perished.

Nevertheless, sabotage was continuing to increase in France, he said. In January, 58 trains were derailed and 90 locomotives wrecked in one district alone. Some 500 maquis, or members of the underground, resisted 5,000 Germans for 11 days in one village and killed 700 of them.

Murders Admitted

Radio Brazzaville, official French station in Africa, said that Vichy admitted that the Germans had executed 43,000 French hostages exclusive of patriots and members of the underground since 1940.

Other reports reaching London said the German storm troopers had been ordered to confiscate all radio sets in northwestern France, particularly along the coast, presumably to prevent French patriots from listening to invasion instructions broadcast from Britain.

126 Jap Planes Blasted in New Attack on Truk

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, May 2 (AP)—Powerful Pacific fleet task forces smashed Truk with heavy carrier plane attacks Saturday and Sunday and then bombed and shelled Truk's supporting bases at Ponape and Satiwan islands, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced today.

A total of 126 Japanese planes was destroyed in the two-day attack on Truk.

Eight hundred tons of bombs were dropped on Truk's islands. Shore installations were heavily damaged.

While carrier bombers blasted bombed and torn Ponape, 440 miles east of Truk, battleships commanded by Vice Adm. W. A. Lee pounded Ponape's installations with their heavy guns Monday.

(Earlier today Tokyo radio reported an American carrier force had caused "some damage" to Truk's ground installations in an attack Sunday and Monday. Tokyo asserted Japanese interceptors and shore guns "heavily damaged" an aircraft carrier and shot down more than 30 United States planes.)

Satawan, 189 miles southeast of Truk in the Nomoi island group, was shelled Sunday by cruisers under commander of Rear Adm. J. B. Oldendorf.

Carrier planes carried out coordinated bombing attacks.

Nimitz said no American ship was damaged in the operation of the fleet task forces under the overall command of Vice Adm. Marc A. Mitscher.

American aircraft losses were light. "Approximately 30 aircraft personnel are missing," Nimitz reported.

Mitscher's forces carried out the crushing strikes in the center of the enemy's once powerful Caroline island positions in a quick follow up of their operations supporting the Hollandia invasion landings in New Guinea April 22.

Nimitz said considerable damage was inflicted at Ponape and Satawan by our "protracted shelling and bombing."

Sixty Japanese planes were shot down in air combat in the first day of the Truk attack and 64 were destroyed on the ground. Five enemy planes were downed by the anti-aircraft of task force ships.

17 ENEMY SHIPS SENT TO BOTTOM

WASHINGTON, May 2 (UP)—U. S. submarines, continuing their heavy strikes against Japanese shipping, have sunk two more destroyers, a light cruiser, and nine non-combatant vessels, the navy announced today.

The nine other vessels sunk by U. S. undersea craft in Pacific and far eastern waters were one large naval auxiliary, one large tanker, two medium-sized cargo transports, and five medium-sized cargo vessels.

These latest sinkings bring the total of Japanese vessels hit by our submarines to 695, of which 544 have been sunk, 36 probably sunk, and 115 damaged. Of these, 45 Japanese combatant ships have sunk, 10 probably sunk, and 14 damaged, for a total of 69.

Since the navy no longer announces enemy vessels damaged by U. S. submarines, it is presumed that the damaged total has been considerably increased since the last ones were announced last fall. Since that time, the only announced damage was to a Japanese battleship which was hit by a U. S. submarine off Palau islands in March.

Confined entirely to submarine actions, the communique made no reference to a two-day attack on the Japanese naval bastion of Truk reported by the Tokyo radio.

British Get Destroyer

LONDON, May 2 (UP)—British submarines blockading Japan's sea lanes between Singapore and Burma have sunk a destroyer and four merchant vessels and bombarded Port Blair, main port in the Andaman islands, the admiralty announced today.

Two medium-sized supply ships and a small escort vessel were damaged by submarines, the admiralty communique added.

The submarine attacks, following closely the naval task force raid April 19 on Sabang, off the northern tip of Sumatra, indicated the increasing attention being given the

SOVIET BOMBERS RIP ATTACK PATH

MOSCOW, May 2 (UP)—Red air force bombers hit Brest Litovsk, five-way railway junction on the invasion route to Warsaw, 115 miles farther west, Sunday night in the latest of a series of raids softening up the central front for an anticipated Soviet offensive, a communique announced last night.

Seventeen fires, four of them particularly large, were started at the strategic junction and a number of military trains loaded with troops, ammunition and other war supplies wrecked. The raid was the fourth in as many nights and the 10th in 13 nights by Soviet bombers.

On the ground, the red army killed nearly 1,000 Germans and knocked out four nazi tanks in repulsing German attacks southeast of Stanislawow in old Poland in a day-long battle.

Supporting airmen on this front blew up two railway trains and several ammunition and fuel dumps. Eighteen German planes were shot down in aerial combat.

May Snow Covers Part of 2 States

DENVER, May 2 (AP)—Winter took another belated and frosty crack at Colorado and southern Wyoming today, with more than seven inches of wet, heavy snow falling in the Denver area.

It was the fourth heavy snowstorm in less than a month and followed a balmy spring day. Budding trees sagged under the white blanket. Tardily planted farm fields were hidden and wartime traffic was hampered.

WARD CALLS FDR ACTION IN PLANT SEIZURE ILLEGAL

CHICAGO, May 2 (AP)—President Roosevelt's wartime authority to place under government control a private business claiming non-war activity was the basis for further arguments today as Montgomery Ward and company continued its court fight to regain possession of its federally-seized properties.

Seizure of the big mail order house, effected last week on Mr. Roosevelt's order culminating a labor dispute, was termed by Attorney General Biddle as coming within the president's power.

Has the Power

Biddle, arguing in behalf of the government's petition for an injunction restraining company officials from interfering with federal operation of the Chicago properties, yesterday asserted the President, "as commander-in-chief of the army and navy, has "a great constitutional reserve of power."

He asserted that the President's authority was sufficient to order the facilities placed under federal control and that "no business of any kind is immune from that power."

But Harold Smith, Ward attorney, in his opening statements before Federal Judge William H. Holly, declared that the seizure was illegal and that the attorney general hasn't been able to put his finger on a single statutory provision that justifies the seizure."

Not Under Ruling

Smith contended that the company's properties do not fall within the definition of industries permitted to be seized under the war labor disputes act and argued that congress intended the seizure power to be restricted to plants engaged in the manufacture of war materials as specified in the law.

Holly, after the hearing recessed yesterday, indicated he would be unable to give a decision today, as he previously had planned.

TUGWELL CHARGE DECLARED FALSE

NEW YORK, May 2 (UP)—Oswald Garrison Villard, former owner and editor of the New York Evening Post and The Nation, said today that Rexford Guy Tugwell "is probably the most popular governor among the people that has ever resided in Puerto Rico."

Villard, who said he had just returned from a four-week visit to the island, to study conditions there, denounced as "false and misleading" the statement made in Washington yesterday by Resident Commissioner Bolivar Pagan that the people were on the brink of revolution against Tugwell's administration.

Home Rule Wanted

"It is true that the people of Puerto Rico are up in arms against the colonial government of the United States and that there will be serious trouble if they are not given home rule," Villard said. "Actually, however, aside from certain big business circles, which have been bitterly opposed to the extension of the insular government's activities, Governor Tugwell is probably the most popular governor among the people that has ever resided in Puerto Rico."

As to Pagan's charges that the governor lives in "regal splendor," Villard said the Fortaleza had been the official residence of American governors for many years.

Statement False

"The statement that $500,000 was spent on the Fortaleza a year ago is absolutely false," he continued. "This historic building was repaired by the WPB under Admiral Leahy.

"It is true that Governor Tugwell has made mistakes," Villard said. "The angel Gabriel himself would make them in dealing with the impossible situation with which he and the Puerto Rican people are confronted because of government from Washington by bureaucrats . . . the governor is not always tactful . . . but I am sure that no governor the United States has ever sent to the island has been more eager to aid the Puerto Rican people."

Army Ousts Sewell Avery

"You can't do this to me," complains Sewell Avery, 69-year-old head of Montgomery Ward and company, as two husky soldiers carry him from his office to enforce government's seizure of the firm's Chicago office. Atty. Gen. Francis Biddle said force was necessary because Avery refused to give up his office or lend aid to government's operation of the plant.

Drivers Seeking New Jobs in Truck Tieup

BOISE, May 2 (AP)—A steady transfer of idle Utah and Idaho truck drivers into other employment was reported today while operators of seven transit lines tied up in a dispute over handling of non-union packages said government freight was piling up at warehouses.

A regional war manpower commission ruling last week-end permitted drivers to obtain certificates of availability for other work, and the U. S. employment service offices at Boise and Twin Falls were kept busy yesterday issuing certificates.

The employment service declined to divulge the number granted, but Frank Baldwin, secretary of the Boise AFL teamsters' union, estimated that the majority of the 75 to 100 drivers idle in the Boise and Twin Falls areas have been released from their jobs to work elsewhere.

Some Freight Moves

Skeleton crews have been maintained to handle some government freight, but Louis H. Callister, Salt Lake City, attorney for the operators, said lines are finding it almost impossible to handle such business because they lack sufficient manpower and because trucks and docks already are loaded with civilian packages which cannot be moved.

Operators held a day-long meeting in Salt Lake City yesterday but failed to take any action.

Callister reported that the Denver-Chicago Freight Lines had abandoned hauling transcontinental freight between Denver and Pocatello because the Colint Lines with which it connects, is tied up from Pocatello to the Pacific coast.

235 Men Idle

Approximately 235 men are idle in the two states. The army labor division at Fort Douglas, Utah, has asked certification to the war labor board, but the WLB declined to intervene until further mediation is attempted.

The dispute began nearly two weeks ago in Boise when drivers of four lines—Garrett's, Arrowhead, Orange and Consolidated—refused to pick up freight from a non-union depot. It spread to other Idaho and Utah points and drivers for several other lines conducted "sympathy walkouts."

Operators contend they are required by the interstate commerce act to handle all freight.

RAILROADS EASE GOODS SHORTAGE

The truck drivers' strike continued an increasing irritant today to merchants faced with shortages in various commodities, but transportation problems in many cases were being solved in one way or another, and drivers off the job continued to apply for availability certificates so as to do other work.

John A. Noble, officer manager for the Davidson Wholesale company, said grocery shippers learned their lesson in the March truck strike, and were quicker this time to begin shipping by rail. This company several days ago reported shortages in numerous items, but Noble said today that the situation had improved.

Walgreen's drug store reported no freight had been delivered to that establishment for the 10 days of the strike, and that supplies had been reduced considerably as a result, necessitating borrowing from other dealers. Concentrated cod liver oil for babies was said to be one of the items which disappeared, along with certain brands of toothpaste and powders.

SANTA FE, N. Mex., May 2—State Corporation Commissioner Robert Valdes has support in his announced intention of filing for the Democratic nomination for U. S. representative.

REFUGE

LOS ANGELES, May 2—Pursued by motorcycle policemen, two robbery suspects leaped from a stolen taxicab and fled afoot across a vacant lot and through a back door of a precinct police station.

"They sure ran the wrong way," panted Officer Joe Brickner.

FIGHTING FLARES ON ITALY FRONTS

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NAPLES, May 2 (UP)—Fierce patrol fighting broke out all along the main battlefronts below Rome yesterday, a communique reported today, while allied bombers maintained their day and night offensive against enemy supply ports and rail lines in central and northern Italy.

German skirmishers cut into the fifth army forward positions on the Anzio beachhead three miles southwest of Aprilia, and forced a slight allied withdrawal, while allied combat patrols were attacking the right flank of the beachhead.

One fifth army unit launched an attack on Cerreto Alto with undisclosed results, and another raiding party probed the German lines two miles west of Littoria, withdrawing without casualties after a brief fight.

A formation of 12 to 15 German planes attempted a sneak raid on Anzio harbor Sunday evening, but the raiders were forced to jettison their bombs before reaching the port area. At least four and probably six enemy planes were shot down by fifth army anti-aircraft gunners.

On the main fifth army front to the south, allied troops improved their positions along the lower Garigliano river, near Tremonsuoli. Allied and German artillery and mortar batteries traded heavy fire in the Cassino sector, although there were no reports of new ground action in that area.

American and British fighters and fighter-bombers ranged over the battle areas, bombing and machine gunning road lines and supply concentrations, while the allied medium and heavy bombing fleets struck nazi targets further north.

DATES FIXED FOR PLANT ELECTIONS

RUPERT, May 2—Proprietors of three Idaho produce companies today received national labor relations board directions to hold an election for their employes Thursday and Friday to determine which union they want to represent them in collective bargaining. It was said by L. L. Culbertson, Rupert, one of the company heads involved.

Other concerns are the J. R. Simplot Produce company, operating at Paul, Declo and Rupert, and the C. N. Campbell Produce company, operating at Burley and Rupert.

Culbertson said he and the other dealers had been notified of a pre-election conference to be held at 3 p. m. Wednesday at the Simplot office in Burley, under the direction of Theodore Allison, Seattle, NLRB, field examiner, who will supervise the elections.

Seeking designation as the workers' representative is the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers of America.

Although Culbertson said his force is now reduced to two men, and that those of the others also are curtailed for the summer season, all those men working a short time prior to April 12—date the election was ordered to be held—will be eligible to ballot.

This will make approximately 70 men eligible to vote, Culbertson said.

The election will be held Thursday afternoon at the Culbertson, Simplot and Campbell places here, and Friday at Campbell and Simplot places at Burley, Paul and Declo.

Culbertson said he thought results would be announced shortly after the election.

War Effort Gets Potato Alcohol

IDAHO FALLS, Ida., May 2 (AP)—New Yorkers who recently sampled "potato whisky" of the Idaho variety needn't entertain hope for it as an answer to the liquor shortage—tuber spirits have gone to war.

Officials of Galsworthy, Inc., the plant which turned out potato alcohol for blending with other spirits in whisky offered for sale in New York City, announced the government had requisitioned the entire output for industrial purposes.

U. S. TROOPS PUSH JAPS FROM BASES

ADVANCED ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, May 2 (UP)—U. S. troops who have counted 677 dead Japanese in the Hollandia area of Dutch New Guinea since they invaded the area 10 days ago are reducing enemy hill positions north of Lake Sentani, a communique announced today.

Australian patrols, operating on the eastern front in New Guinea, were advancing northward from newly-captured Alexishafen above Madang and killed three Japanese in contacting only scattered enemy remnants, an allied headquarters spokesman said.

The communique disclosed new aerial attacks on Japanese bases along the northern New Guinea coast.

Heavy reconnaissance bombers again attacked the enemy shipping lines, destroying a coastal vessel at Manokwari in Geelvink bay, 450 miles west of Hollandia, and damaging three small craft farther west at Cape Waios.

Fighter planes raided Marienburg in Sepik valley near Hansa bay, where they destroyed or damaged eight trucks, and attacked other targets in the 100-mile area between Hansa bay and Madang.

FDR Test Looms in Southern Primary Votes; Tydings Wins

By The Associated Press

The Roosevelt administration underwent a test by proxy in the Florida and Alabama Democratic senatorial primaries today. It also figures as a side issue in voting by South Dakota Republicans.

With plenty of personalities involved, Senator Claude Pepper, Florida Democrat, carried the new deal banner into a five-way contest for renomination that had found his chief opponent; County Judge Ollie Emunds, Jacksonville, hammering away at the administration's domestic policies and at their support by Pepper.

Faces Challenge

In Alabama, Senator Hill, the Democratic whip and strong supporter of the President, fought out a challenge by James A. Stimson, Birmingham attorney, who urged the voters to reject Hill as a Roosevelt man.

A Republicanized version of the administration issue played a part in the South Dakota GOP senatorial primary, where Senator Gurney is seeking reelection with a plea that he was one of the first to recognize the need for preparedness before this country entered the war. His opponent, Lieut. Gov. A. C. Miller, based his appeal on the contention that Gurney followed the President too closely and "adopted much of the new deal philosophy."

The support-the-President plea apparently had little effect in Maryland, where Senator Tydings won renomination by nearly five to one over Willis R. Jones, Baltimore, his principal Democratic opponent, in a five way race.

Criticizes Failure

Jones had criticized what he said was Tyding's failure to back the President's policies, while Tydings had insisted that he and Mr. Roosevelt worked together on major issues despite their 1938 differences when the President openly opposed his renomination.

Tyding's Republican opponent in the November election apparently will be Blanchard Randall, Jr., Baltimore banker, who emerged in front after a nip and tuck struggle with Paul Robertson for the party's nomination. Robertson, a manufacturer and Baltimore GOP chairman, had contested with Randall on purely local issues.

Farm Camp Open; Mexicans Coming

The war food administration farm labor camp south of Twin Falls is now open to farm laborers, it was said by E. E. Scannell, manager, and camps at Gooding and Jerome are ready to receive an estimated total of 100 Mexican workers expected to arrive shortly after May 5.

Scannell said the shelters have been opened at the Twin Falls camp—family dwellings remain in use the year around—and that there are approximately 110 persons now living at the camp. The capacity of the Twin Falls camp is approximately 1,000 persons.

Approximately 50 Mexicans each will be assigned to the Gooding and Jerome camps when they arrive, said Scannell. Manager of the Gooding camp is Robert Thornburg, and manager of the Jerome camp is Darrell Moss.

25 YEARS FOR SLAYER

BOISE, May 2 (AP)—Calvin Turner, Jr., 17-year-old Negro, was sentenced to 25 years to life imprisonment for the slaying March 15 of Mrs. Lottie Martian, operator of a snack bar at the Boise Negro USO center. Judge Charles E. Winstead fixed sentence yesterday. Turner pleaded guilty last Saturday.

Partisans Gain In Trieste Area

LONDON, May 2 (UP)—Partisan forces, striking from northwestern Yugoslavia, were reported fighting today in the vicinity of the big Adriatic port of Trieste, while other units slashed the German defenses in Hercegovina and captured Lastva in eastern Yugoslavia.

A communique from headquarters of Marshal Josip (Tito) Broz said his forces attacked the Postumia-Trieste railway line at several point sto disrupt communications and briefly mentioned that partisans were fighting in the neighborhood of Trieste.

Schenley Concern Faces U.S. Charge

WASHINGTON, May 2 (UP)—The department of justice announced today that Schenley Distillers corporation of New York and 11 other defendants have been charged with conspiring to deal in a liquor black market involving 15,000 cases of liquor and with falsifying internal revenue reports.

Parents Ask Half Million for "Son" Who Proves to Be a Girl

LOS ANGELES, May 2 (UP)—Mr. and Mrs. Harry James Hardwig go to court today asking a half-million dollars for the shock of discovering that their six-day old son was a girl.

The birth certificate said Richard Allen Hardwig; the stamp on Richard's arm said "male"; attendants at South Hoover street hospital congratulated the parents on their fine son; Dr. J. M. Andrews attended the birth and signed the certificate, and Hardwig paid a bill for an operation which can't be done to little girls.

Mistake Discovered

But when they got Richard home, they discovered the first time he required attention, that all those blue booties and things should have been pink.

Hardwig, a liquor dealer, said he might have thought he had been sampling his stock, but he doesn't care for the stuff. He rushed to the hospital, he said. They told him there must have been a mistake.

He agreed. The hospital maintained the mistake had been made in registering, and that the operation bill was just a bookkeeping error.

Hardwig and his wife maintained the bookkeeping had been correct, but that somebody else had been given Richard Allen Hardwig and the Hardwigs had received someone else's little girl.

"We love the little girl," Hardwig said, "but we don't feel she is our own."

Hospital Charged

Additionally, the Hardwigs, of Catholic faith, are afraid their "son" might have been given to a non-Catholic family.

Their attorneys, S. S. Hahn, W. O. Graff and Saul Ross, charge the hospital and the doctor with negligence, carelessness and abduction.

"Mrs. Hardwig," the complaint said, "will be forever in doubt as to her true relationship to the baby girl which she now loves, but believes is not her child."

HEARING ON NEW BUS LINE OPENS

BOISE, May 2 (AP)—A joint board of the interstate commerce commission presided over by William E. Lee, Washington, D. C., hearing officer, opened a hearing here on the Mount Hood Stages application to establish a bus passenger service between here and Salt Lake City.

A number of witnesses testified in behalf of the application by the Pacific Trailways affiliate, and a group from north Idaho asked that the authorization be extended to establish service from Spokane, Lewiston and north Idaho points to Boise.

Harold Craig, Boise, owner of Scenic Stages which operates between here and New Meadows, told the board he had purchased the Burns Stage line which runs from New Meadows north, and intends affiliate with Pacific Trailways to bring about direct service between Boise and north Idaho.

William B. Marsh, secretary of Lewiston Chamber of Commerce, testified this proposed service and facilities require three days to get mail from Lewiston to southern Idaho points. Other witnesses included: Orville Chaney, Twin Falls chamber, and J. W. Edgett, Buhl chamber.

Among those testifying Tuesday morning were Steve Collins, Jr., of the Boise Chamber of Commerce; the Rev. Fred H. Hall of Parma, Ida.; Edward W. Onsby, lawyer of Hagerman, Ida.; Willard A. Patterson, Declo, Ida., merchant; Robert W. Sawyer, editor of the Bulletin at Bend, Ore.; O. P. Deming, chairman of the board of councilmen at Nampa, Ida.; Vern R. Teasley, operator of an automobile company at Twin Falls; Charles B. McConnell, Burns, Ore., attorney; Arthur B. Fillingburg, acting mayor of Burns; J. L. McCulloch, president of the Burns Chamber of Commerce, and Milton B. Hayes, county judge at Burns.

Railroads Ease Goods Shortage

Kingsbury drug store reported increasing use of parcel post and express to alleviate drug shortages brought on by the truck strike.

T. J. Lloyd, candy and tobacco wholesaler, said his supplies had been depleted by the truck strike holding up replenishments.

A. J. Meeks, manager of the U. S. employment service here, said a total of eight truck drivers had received availability certificates here since the strike began, enabling them to work at another job until the strike is over.

A. W. Young, vice-president of Oranger Transportation company, and other trucking company officials have expressed the conviction that the amount of freight carried by the longhaul companies will be cut 60 per cent if the drivers are given unlimited certificates and cannot be hired again by the truck companies.

Pfc. William C. Reeves, with U. S. infantry forces in the southwest Pacific, has been awarded the purple heart for wounds received in action and "heroism" above the regular call of duty. He suffered scalp wounds on March 15 at Bougainville.

Overseas since July of 1943, young Reeves farmed with his father near Twin Falls before entering the service. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Reeves. During his army training at various U. S. bases, he earned rifle, bayonet and chemical warfare medals.

Prior to his call to overseas duty he was taking private flying lessons at Fort Bliss, Tex., and lacked just four hours before he could have made his first solo flight.

DRAFT ON IDAHO PHARMACISTS HIT

BOISE, May 2 (AP)—An estimated 20 per cent of Idaho's retail drug stores have closed and the drain on manpower by the military services leaves the home front "inadequately protected," a representative of the state pharmaceutical association asserted.

In a letter to Idaho selective service headquarters, James J. Lynch, secretary of the association's advisory committee, said his organization would decline responsibility for inadequate safeguards to public health if local draft boards "continue to siphon off our remaining pharmacists."

Rural communities have been particularly hard hit by the shut down of drug stores, he said, but in event of an epidemic "the shortage will be more keenly felt in the heavily populated areas."

Lynch said the advisory committee felt it was impossible to obtain replacements and that it wished to absolve itself of any "public consequences" should an occasion arise detrimental to public health.

The secretary also contended the army "often makes little or no use of the pharmacists it has."

"We have had many instances reported in which graduate pharmacists . . . have been placed in the infantry or the artillery while the home front got along with half the number of trained men needed," he said.

Dogs Responsible For Police Calls

Dogs were responsible for three police calls during the week-end. One, reported to be foaming at the mouth on Washington court, proved to have been poisoned on investigation. Another, locked in a garage, barked so much that neighbors of the owner in the 300 block of Sixth avenue east complained. The third, a Scotty, was reported missing by Mrs. Harry Povey.

Distribution of Estate Petitioned

Petition for decree of distribution of two Twin Falls lots left to the two daughters and one son of Robert W. Surtees, who died in Ottawa, Kansas, Dec. 11, 1942, was filed in the probate court.

Terms of the will divided the property equally among daughters, Bernice Surtees Deway and Alta Surtees Brown, petitioner, and son, Stanley Surtees. Appraisers were appointed and the hearing set for 10 a. m., June 3, by Probate Judge C. A. Bailey. Attorney for the petitioner is Frank L. Stephan, Twin Falls.

Buhl Classmates Meet in England

BUHL, May 2—Mr. and Mrs. Nels K. Nelson received word from Cpl. Jack Wesling, who is somewhere in England, that he met Cpl. Vernon Baxter, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Baxter, Buhl. Neither boy knew the other was in England.

They both graduated from the Buhl high school with the class of 1942. Corporal Wesling, who is in the coast artillery, is a brother of Mrs. James T. Shields, Buhl, who is now with Lieutenant Shields at his air base station.

CLARK TO SPEAK AT MEETING HERE

BOISE, May 2 (AP)—Sen. D. Worth Clark, D., Ida., will be among the speakers at the annual meeting of the Idaho State Reclamation Association at Twin Falls May 12.

William E. Welsh, Boise, secretary of the association, said Senator Clark has notified him that he will discuss irrigation problems, particularly the pending rivers and harbors bill, at the noon luncheon meeting of the group.

The rivers and harbors bill would authorize construction of 250 river and harbor projects throughout the country at the end of the war, including several dams on the Snake and Columbia rivers in Idaho and Oregon.

Construction of the dams would ultimately make boat travel possible from Lewiston, Ida., to the Pacific coast, but the bill as it now stands grants priority on the water to navigation interests and requests for an amendment to that section have been voiced in many western quarters.

Senator Clark wired Welsh that he has "joined Sen. John Thomas of Idaho and a number of other senators in sponsoring an amendment to this bill so that the use of water for domestic irrigation, mining and industrial purposes should not be adversely affected."

SAFETY PROGRAM SET AT AIRPORT

Three permits to construct single plane hangars at the municipal airport were approved at the council meeting last night.

Harry H. Harris, who arrived to press his case shortly after his request had been approved, told councilmen of the proposed safety improvements for the field, including guards to handle the Sunday traffic and the designation of parking areas for cars. Other persons receiving permits to build hangars were Lynn Stewart and P. D. Judd, who represented the 6R flying club.

Building permits for remodeling constructing additions to homes were granted to A. E. Mulliner, Jim Howard, and J. L. Graybill.

Weighmaster's receipts for April amounted to $44.60 it was announced. The April report of the police judge showed an intake of $203 in bonds and fines and $119 in traffic charges.

The appointment of C. F. Patz as caretaker of the city garage was approved.

After considerable discussion, City Attorney Joseph Blandford was requested to draw up a bill to provide a fund for noxious weed control.

A special meeting of the council for the purpose of planning the budget for the fiscal year 1944-45 will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p. m.

Incumbent Files

JEROME, May 2—State Sen. S. L. Thorpe, present incumbent, has filed on the Republican ticket for the same office, it was announced this week.

"CONSTIPATION GONE —THREW PILLS AWAY"

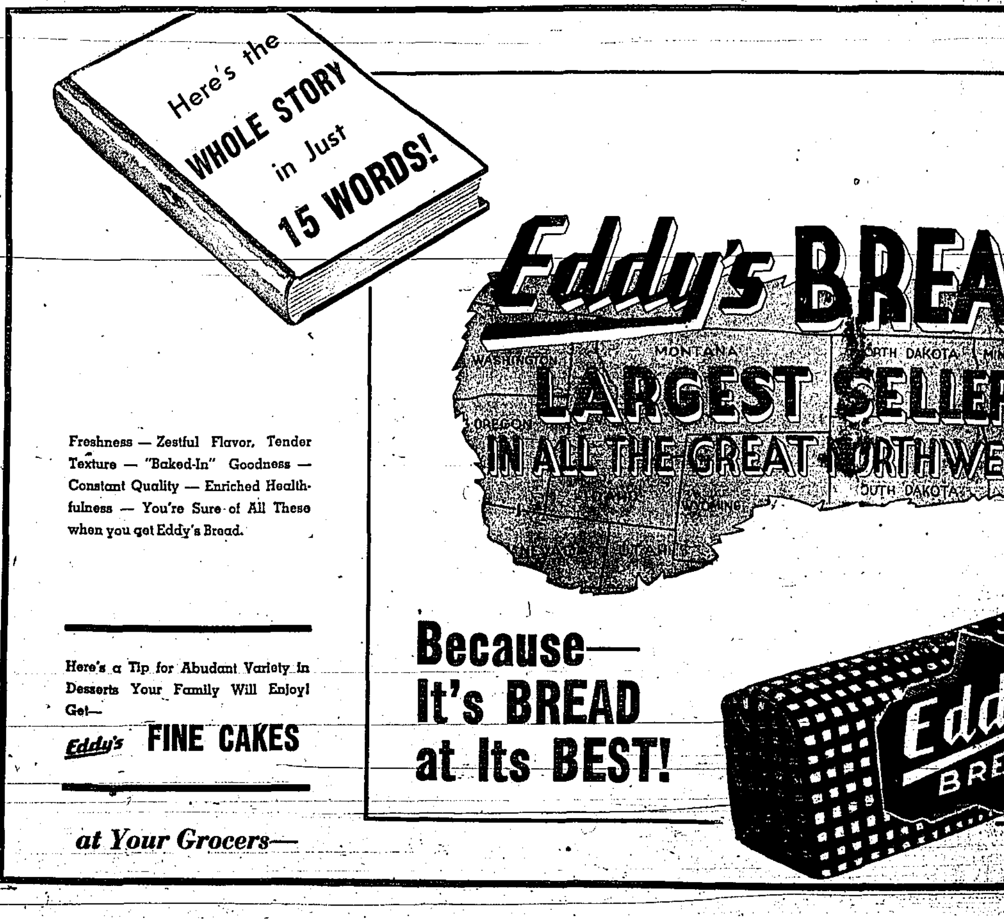

"Year's trial convinces me All-Bran's a better way"

Why go on dosing? Read this sincere, unsolicited letter from an ex-constipation sufferer:

"I'm a regular listener to radio programs featuring KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN. Pleased to say my breakfast every morning for over a year has been a generous bowl of ALL-BRAN. It gives such wonderful relief I've thrown out all pills and other purgatives. ALL-BRAN'S a much gentler way to aid regularity. Others with constipation like mine really should try it." Mrs. J. F. Grubb, 4405 N. Broadway, Fountain City, Knoxville, Tenn.

This seeming magic makes plain common sense. You see, KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN can really get at a common cause of constipation—lack of dietary cellulosic elements—because it is one of Nature's most effective sources of these elements. They help the friendly flora to fluff up and prepare colonic contents for easy elimination. KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is not a purgative! Doesn't sweep you out. It's a gentle-acting, "regulating" food.

If you have constipation of this kind, eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN, or several ALL-BRAN muffins regularly. Drink plenty of water. See if you don't find real lasting relief. Insist on the genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

A QUESTION TO THINK ABOUT

Irrespective of what anyone may think of big business, the average American will have the feeling that something about our democracy has changed, after reading that the chairman of the board of Montgomery Ward and company was carried bodily out of his office by soldiers acting on government orders.

Not everyone will agree entirely with Congressman Dewey of Illinois, who described the government's action as "savoring strongly of gestapo methods," but many will feel that anything so drastic has wide implications.

There is no need to go into all the details, because details clouded in the haze of our national bureaucracy are so conflicting and confusing that no one knows what the score is from one day to another.

The principal issues involved are sufficient to establish conclusions. In a nutshell, the entire dispute centered around Montgomery Ward and company refusing to comply with directives by the war labor board that the company extend a contract with a CIO union pending further determination of the union's claim to majority representation.

The inference to be drawn from the government's action against the company is that Montgomery Ward is obstructing the war effort. A more logical conclusion would be that it's just another manifestation of the new deal administration's policy of kow-towing to the labor leaders.

Montgomery Ward, the company points out, is not engaged in war work and for that reason is not subject to some of the wartime directives applying to essential industries.

Looking at the whole affair from another angle, all will agree that if there is anything vital in this war, it's coal. And keeping the coal mines in operation is highly important. But John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers of America, has had no hesitancy in defying the government from the President on down, tying up the mines whenever he sees fit, and receiving scarcely so much as a personal reprimand from the nation's chief executive.

Just by the way of drawing a comparison to illustrate the point, let's pose this question: Would the government consider taking over a union, as it takes over one of the country's biggest businesses, and would it ever go so far as to have soldiers haul John L. Lewis out of his office bodily?

Unless the answer is a definite "yes" in the minds of the American people, then something is decidedly wrong in the workings of our democracy.

IT'S GROWING—TALK IT UP

It's all starting to take hold.

More and more, the people of Idaho are coming to the conclusion that our state highway and police departments should be taken out of politics; that we should junk our present method of setting up a parole board and establish in its stead an efficient and non-political system; that the state's school set-up should be given a going over.

Among those who have openly advocated a thorough investigation of the state's educational system within the last week or so are Supt. of Schools A. W. Morgan of Twin Falls, State Senator K. C. Barlow of Burley, and W. H. Detweiler of Hazelton, Republican candidate for governor.

Other prominent individuals throughout Idaho are not only concurring in this opinion, but are also demanding that other departments of state government be maintained solely to fulfill their purpose, instead of functioning to a large extent as political employment agencies.

It looks as if this is going to be an opportunity for the house cleaning that has been needed for a long time. So talk it up, all of you people of Magic Valley who are interested in efficient and economical state government. Insist on all of the political candidates letting you know where they stand on these important issues.

IT'S NOT THE PRINCIPLE

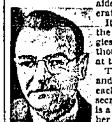

Nine hundred flying instructors have already been cut loose by the civil aeronautics administration, another 4,000 are expected to be out by June 30. A similar number now studying to be instructors may wind up with nobody to teach.

All this is reason enough for the house committee investigating civil service to take a close look at the women's air force service patrol training program: 500 receiving instruction, 500 signed up and ready. The girls ferry planes, tow targets, etc. It seems foolish to pay for their training when experienced men pilots, unfit for combat service, are being turned off.

It isn't the principle of the thing. It's a matter of $6,500,000 for WASP training.

New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey has designated April 30-May 6 as "Noise Abatement Week" throughout his state. The governor undoubtedly will set a shining example by giving his customary answer to all questions concerning his presidential aspirations.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

Ray Tucker

FANGS—The most spectacular instance of a prominent new dealer's effort to stir up disunity for political purposes occurred at a recent conference held by Secretary Harold L. Ickes, John L. Lewis's aides and representatives of the operators.

It was such a glaring offense that the cabinet member offered apologies to the U. M. W. president, although the culprit is a great favorite at the White House.

The man who tried to pit John L. and the "old curmudgeon" against each other was Abe Fortas, under secretary of the interior. Fortas, who is a Frankfurter protege and a member of the second edition of the brain trust, was recently released from military service on the ground of poor eyesight. Both F. D. R. and Mr. Ickes requested his deferment.

The significance of the backstage attempt to create dissension is this: Mr. Ickes is the only member of the presidential household who still remains on friendly terms with the buccaneering Welshman.

Had it not been for their close relationship, the nation might have suffered from a severe coal strike and armed intervention in the winter of 1943. Even their critics concede that they are almost the only two men at the capital with an adult understanding of the problems of the bituminous industry.

Mr. Fortas apparently thought that his byplay would be satisfactory to more important bosses than his immediate superior, for this is not the first time that highly placed new dealers have shown their fangs to the only big-time labor leader who supported Wendell Willkie and is organizing his followers against a fourth term.

* * *

FIREWORKS—The group had assembled behind the closed door of Mr. Ickes' office to discuss John L.'s demand that the operators pay his men the $18,000,000 of retroactive wages due as a result of the agreement negotiated by him and the cabinet member last October.

Although all but a few owners are willing to comply, the war labor board has dallied with the question for more than six months, refusing to approve the settlement.

The operators hesitate to turn over the money until they receive a government order, since their properties are still under federal control. Mr. Ickes does not care to issue such instruction, although it is believed that he has the authority.

On the first day of the recent powwow the various parties smoothed out the more controversial points, and adjourned with the understanding that they would get together the following day. But when they reassembled, the cabinet member announced that he wanted to read a statement reviewing the proceedings.

The first portion of the document was purely factual, and the secretary ran through it quickly and easily. Suddenly he stopped, stared at the paper, and began to hem and haw. He coughed. Next, explaining that he was slightly indisposed, he asked Mr. Fortas to continue the reading.

Then the fireworks started!

* * *

INSULT—"We must get on with our business of producing coal to meet the nation's needs," droned Mr. Fortas. "Even if we do our best, we shall be short. "If bullheadedness, unrestrained exercise of lurid vocabulary, or greed or overreaching on either side of the table interferes with the production of coal, I tell you that all of you can expect little sympathy and no help from me!"

Mr. Lewis rose immediately to his feet, his dark eyes flashing and his huge face crimson.

"Mr. Secretary," he said, "this is a studied and calculated insult to me and the miners who have performed so patriotically. Insults to me do not matter; I can take care of myself. But you affront the men and the women who are producing coal to win the war."

* * *

SUSPICIONS—When the Fortas statement was finished, the cabinet member asked the U. M. W. president and his key aides to meet with him in his private office. Shamefaced and apologetic, Mr. Ickes said, in effect:

"Gentlemen, nothing like this has happened around here since I have been in the government. I had not seen that statement until I started to read it. It was written by Fortas, and it does not express my views. I am deeply sorry, and I want you to understand that this is no doing of mine."

The question still unanswered is: Who directed the under secretary to frame a statement affronting John L., and one which, except for Mr. Ickes's prompt intervention, would have transformed these two friends into enemies? He may be wrong, but the Welshman has his suspicions.

Note: Despite reports to the contrary, Mr. Lewis will NOT support F. D. R. if he runs again, or anybody who carries a Rooseveltian banner.

VIEWS OF OTHERS

NO OUTSIDE ADVICE IS WANTED

It is only logical that our allies, and particularly Britain, should be concerned about the political trends in this country. However, the comment of British leaders and newspapers has caused considerable resentment here, as the full force of British opinion is being marshaled in support of the fourth term for the president. In addition, it is timely to observe that our British allies also are inclined to express a choice of a Republican presidential nominee. When Wendell Willkie withdrew from the race, English comment reflected extreme dissatisfaction, as well as questioning whether Governor Dewey had the proper perspective to insure ample consideration for British aims and objectives.

We can understand the logic of this situation, but at the same time it is unfortunate that the British do not display more tact, and comprehend that the selection of an American president is essentially the business of Americans. Nothing but harm and distrust can result from undue activity on the part of British leaders in seeking to influence our election. It would be just as indiscreet for us to attempt to dictate to the British king who should be prime minister, and probably just as ineffective.

It is obvious why President Roosevelt is so popular in foreign countries, and why his international policies meet with their approval. But the fact remains that Americans are primarily concerned with the selection of a chief executive, and they will likely guard zealously this prerogative. We want our president to command the respect and enjoy the good will of all our allies, but, more important, we want our president to recognize that his first loyalty is to the United States.—Burley Bulletin.

THE NEARING FALL

We are inclined to believe that Herr Joseph Goebbels, the nazi propaganda minister, was preparing the German people for the fall of Hitler in his speech rallying them to observance of der fuehrer's 55th birthday.

We are also inclined to believe that Goebbels, who is artful with words, was himself preparing to get out from under when crushing weight of repudiation comes down upon Hitler.

Among his apologies which associated the "greatest leaders of history" with "setbacks and defeats" one sentence stands out:

"It is difficult to remain true to the cause in a continuous embittered fight for the life of a nation."

Hitler, insane leader of an insane nation, let the birthday pass, so far as we are able to learn, without braggadocio and bombast. The blood of millions of Germany's youth which he has caused to be shed, and of millions of other youth whom he has murdered, may have engulfed him in a deep, dread depression. The prospects of Germany as a funeral pyre for his ambitions, twisted and broken and laid in ashes and mud, may have caused him to wish he had never been born. That "ghastly grim and ancient raven," fear, may have presided at his anniversary—fear for the nation that the free nations of the world have now with deep determination and vast force set out to erase because of its death menace to humanity; fear for himself, because the black raven will feed him nothing but defeat.

But who knows—perhaps another year there will not be a Hitler to have a birthday, or much of Germany to celebrate it.—Oregon Journal.

Nervous? Of Course Not!

"WASHINGTON CALLING" BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON—A footnote to the news from London on the eve of invasion tells of the sentencing of a prominent and popular actor to eight weeks in prison for misuse of his car in commuting between his home and his theater. That is a sign of the severity with which Britain is enforcing civilian restrictions.

Consider the contrast here! Here a committee of the house has solemnly proposed that price control regulations be liberalized. American rights are being invaded!

That comes from the group of which Howard Smith of Virignia is chairman. The committee proposes to make some changes in the basic price control act. They sound fairly unimportant. The average citizen won't see their real significance.

* * *

Actually, if incorporated in the law, they would riddle the precarious price control structure. They would open the way to the deluge of inflation.

Of course, American rights are being invaded. They're being invaded by the evil necessity of a war that was not of our choosing; a war that came as a sneak attack on our chief military outpost in the Pacific.

Of the Smith committee's proposed changes — those innocent changes to "protect" the American citizen — a commentator solemnly writes:

"One of the most unfortunate aspects of a war period is the tendency to 'put over' during an emergency things that are plainly not constitutional and are normally against public policy."

War isn't constitutional. Ask the men who came back from Tarawa—the men who were fortunate enough to come back—what was constitutional about that bloody ordeal.

What all this shows is a failure to comprehend the kind of struggle we're in. It's of a piece with the uproar over the closing of night clubs because of the new 30 per cent entertainment tax.

Certainly that tax is working a hardship on many innocent people. Certainly the price control act is working hardships — innumerable hardships.

But the choice may well be the survival of this nation. I believe that inflation could be nearly as disastrous as a military defeat. I believe out of it could come the destruction of all our liberties.

No one has a right to question Congressman Smith's motives. He has, however, a blind spot and a serious blind spot. He is a fanatical believer in "states rights" and a fanatical hater of anything that comes under the word "bureaucracy."

That's all right, either as a belief or merely for political tub thumping. In normal times it's all right. In wartime, some of our convictions must be temporarily sacrificed. War means inevitably the tightening of national controls in order to hold the country together for a period of trial.

* * *

The effect of the Smith committee proposals would be actually to increase the federal bureaucracy. The committee proposes, for example, to allow accused offenders to go into any federal district court to attack a regulation rather than solely to the emergency federal court created under the price control act.

This would mean several hundred lawsuits scattered all around the country. It would mean that members of the OPA administrative staff would have to testify here, there and everywhere. The present Washington staff, which is fairly small, would have to be enlarged.

Here's the catch, of course. Let's say the Smith proposals "liberalizing" the law were adopted. They make OPA's job 10 times as complicated and difficult. So OPA then has to come to congress for a larger appropriation to hire more people to enforce the law and clean up the black markets.

That is just where congress would say no. You'd hear all sorts of speeches about bureaucracy running wild, about waste in government.

Let's keep price control out of the ordinary political scrimmage. Too much is at stake.

HISTORY OF TWIN FALLS

AS GLEANED FROM THE FILES OF THE TIMES-NEWS

15 YEARS AGO, MAY 2, 1929

L. L. Breckenridge, general manager of the Twin Falls Flour Mills, was elected president of the Twin Falls Rotary club at the annual meeting held Wednesday night. R. P. Parry, Twin Falls attorney, was elected vice-president. On the board of directors are: Edward Cooper, John Orr, Arthur Peavey, George White and Roy A. Read.

27 YEARS AGO, MAY 2, 1917

Since the last list of recruits for the forces of the U. S. was published, the following have volunteered: Ronald A. Hewitt, Hazelton, signal corps; LeRoy Wathall, Kimberly, coast artillery; William H. Eggleston, Buhl, medical corps; George A. Christenson, Buhl, medical department; Glenn B. Lionberger and Kenneth B. Lionberger, Hollister, coast artillery; Wilfred W. Eden, Kimberly, cavalry; Newton R. Smith, Filer, infantry.

The Rev. B. G. Backman arrived in Kimberly Saturday to assume his duties as resident pastor of the Christian church of that town. His wife will arrive Saturday from Nampa.

Dear Pot Shots:

With so many people from Twin Falls having only A cards, I am wondering how the 105 car owners from this city managed the 80 or 90 mile round trip to Salmon dam a week ago.

P. S.—Yeah, and the 105 cars was an actual count. In fact, one reputable counter vowed there were 180 cars.

TO SUBMARINE MEN LYING IN THE DEEP

Under the sea free from worry or care,
Hid from sunshine or rain, safe from pain and despair,
On the cold ocean floor lie sleeping the brave
In their casket of steel in a watery grave.

As the world rolls along with its worry and care
They are rocked in the deep, sound asleep, unaware
Of the turmoil that rages above on the waves,
Of the ships that are passing just over their graves.

And the waves overhead sing a soft lullaby
To heroes who sleep in their cradle close by,
And the breezes above them are singing a song
Of great deeds in the making by brave men and strong.

Their comrades are fighting that our flag may still fly
For the mothers who wait with a tear in their eye
For the memory of those who so silently sleep
In their casket of steel on the floor of the deep.

MAP

An engineer officer down at Camp Crowder, Mo., wants to know about the Twin Falls country—and what he means, he wants to know everything.

That was the slightly startled reaction of County Auditor Charley Bulles on receiving a letter from Lieut. Howard O. Smith, Neosho, Mo. The officer said he plans to settle in Idaho after the war and is trying to decide between Twin Falls and Boise. So he wants:

1. A complete contour map showing all roads, buildings and related data. It's to be one-ten thousandth to one 63,360th, and is to show the entire north half of the county.

2. Aerial photo.

3. Data on prevailing winds and climatic conditions.

What worries Auditor Bulles is that there doesn't seem to be any such map in existence. In fact, Bulles would like to have one for himself. But Twin Falls county not only doesn't have a county engineer, it doesn't even have a county surveyor any more until one is elected next November.

(P. S.—Lieutenant Smith says he isn't a farmer.)

THE GENTLEMAN IN THE THIRD ROW

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

Westbrook Pegler

NEW YORK—I wonder how many of us understand the extent of the power which President Roosevelt claimed for himself in ordering the army to seize the private property of Montgomery Ward and throw out of the place Sewell Avery, the company executive who represented the owners.

By the same process Mr. Roosevelt could seize and operate through one new deal agency or another, any newspaper or radio station in the United States after the simple preliminary of instigating a labor dispute through some cooperative union official. He could seize and operate them all.

He claimed his authority for this seizure under the war labor disputes act which was super-imposed on the lop-sided labor relations act. The labor disputes act was intended to prevent stoppages in war plants, but is so phrased as to authorize the seizure of any plant or facility equipped for the manufacture or production of any articles or materials which may be used in connection with the war effort, where a labor disturbance occurs.

* * *

Documents, printed on presses from type set by linotypes, may be and constantly are used in the war effort. Radio communication is used in the war effort. Therefore a newspaper plant and a radio station both are plants and facilities subject to seizure by presidential order and to operation by bureaucrats from Washington in the presence of a labor disturbance which interrupts operation.

What is a labor disturbance? It is not necessarily a strike of the legitimate employees of the plant or facility. It could consist of a gang of goons patrolling the gates and intimidating the workers, thus interrupting production. It is not necessary that the goons produce any legitimate authority to represent the workers. All they need do is create a labor disturbance and Mr. Roosevelt's power comes into operation. A memorable case, sufficient to justify seizure of a theater, occurred in New York a few years ago. A play which required no instrumental music but did require a few bars of the Stars and Stripes and the Marseillaise from a phonograph record, was picketed by the local racketeers of Jimmy Petrillo's musicians' union.

The union wanted the producer to pay a number of theoretical musicians for playing no music. This was a racket, pure and simple. No employees were involved. Actually the money was to have been paid into the racket, not to any individual musicians. The local set pickets in front of the theater and Mrs. Roosevelt, who had tickets for the play, recognized this situation as a labor disturbance, refused to cross the picket line and went elsewhere.

Morale is an article or material used in the war effort and amusement is recognized officially as one of the materials from which morale is built. In such a situation today Mr. Roosevelt could send the army to seize the theater.

These are not fantastic or quibbling suppositions. They are thoroughly consistent with the seizure of Montgomery Ward which is not operating under government contracts for the production of war material but is a retail business selling homely domestic articles for civilian use. Naturally some such articles may be used in the war effort. It would be almost impossible to think of any article which could not be so used.

Avery was ordered to extend a union contract which had expired. He refused, insisting that he had no right to assume, without proof, that the union still represented the employees. The union then called a strike, or labor disturbance, and that was Mr. Roosevelt's excuse to call on the army to seize the property and turn it over to his department of commerce for operation.

* * *

The effect of this coercive use of the authority of the war labor board and the President's war powers has been to compel workers to join unions in vast numbers of cases and, in others, to make them keep up their membership whether they wanted to or not. It has been a great help to the unioneer, the racketeer and the communist who have thus increased their membership and their loot and established themselves more firmly in power over not only the workers but the property of law-abiding citizens, many of them away at war and many of them with sons at war.

And, finally, it has placed private property, in no way involved in the actual war effort, in peril of seizure and the owners in peril of eviction and dispossession at the whim of any group calling itself a union even though there be not the slightest evidence that the authors of the disturbance legitimately represent a single worker in the plant.

ANALYZING CURRENT NEWS FROM NEW YORK

Albert Leman

BUSINESS—The golden vision of sustained profitable trade with Russia is coloring postwar plans of American corporations.

Recent conferences held by members of the visiting Soviet purchasing commission and representatives of government and industry are only the beginning of negotiations. If certain deals are made, New York executives of plants which have expanded many times beyond prewar size believe they can keep their machinery operating long after V-day and thus prevent the wholesale discharge of employes.

The problem of business relations with the U. S. S. R. is more complicated than appears on the surface and much misinformation on the subject is bandied about. It has been rumored that the Moscow agents are dickering solely with Washington. Wall street capitalists declare this is not correct.

The Muscovites want to modernize their entire communications system and have been discussing contracts with the International Telephone and Telegraph corporation. They have been talking with General Electric regarding equipment, and with machine tool manufacturers not only about new devices but also concerning conversion of stamps, milling machines and other instruments used in munitions factories.

* * *

GOLD — An extraordinary fact about Russia is that until this war, she had little to do with international trade.

The various five-year plans were chiefly for internal expansion. Previously, the nation's share in world commerce was around one per cent of the total traffic. The volume of her exports and imports was one-tenth of Germany's and one-third of Belgium's. Her role in global markets was about the same as that of Finland.

Three methods of recovery are possible: 1.) To pull herself up by her own bootstraps—as in the five-year plans. The tempo of such reconstruction would be slow and the burden on a tired people would be heavy. 2.) To demand large reparations from Germany in the form of goods and labor. This would prolong political bitterness. 3.) To trade with Uncle Sam and other countries. This last would make for lasting peace.

In return for our raw materials and finished products, Stalin at first might send us only timber, oil, chrome, manganese and other metals. Later, grain and cotton might be added but these two commodities would not interest us.

Russia produces and has accumulated huge stocks of gold but great as the amount may be—its size is, typically, another Stalin secret—New York bankers do not believe it can pay for more than a fraction of the imports she will require. Short- and long-term credits may be necessary.

* * *

SHARE — But how will such arrangements be financed? By the general capital market, by private credit institutions or by a government agency?

Free enterprise advocates fear that the answer may be the entrance of the United States treasury into the normal commercial banking sphere.

A new factor is introduced. The Russians are asking Canada for price and credit concessions on structural steel, locomotives, shipyard equipment and machine tools. The Netherlands government-in-exile and London have also been approached. It is hinted that the country that offers the most desirable terms will get the lion's share of trade.

Still another curious result is that certain Republican businessmen have become as internationalist as Roosevelt and Willkie, now that Soviet gold is dangled before their eyes. This shift may have its effect on the G. O. P. foreign policy plank and the election campaign in the fall.

* * *

CORNY—Flyers who have been in both the Pacific and European theaters of war say that the Japanese radio broadcasts better swing music than does the German.

"Madame Tokyo," as the boys call the nip announcer, plays American band tunes picked up and recorded from, "Hit Parades" and other programs. "Sally Axis," the nickname for the Berlin propagandist, has a full orchestra of German musicians which features latest Broadway melodies. But the technique and tempo are all wrong, according to American jive standards. The Yanks say the Heines don't "jump."

The enemies try to stir dissatisfaction by reference to the things of which our men in uniform are deprived. Hitler's Girl Friday attempts to break down morale by such expressions as, "Pardon me if I interrupt the program. I am now eating a nice thick steak sandwich." Or, "I'll have to stop while I drink my coffee and rich cream. Too bad you have to drink the terrible stuff your cooks call coffee."

Perhaps such allusions to food are sure-fire hits in Europe but to well-fed Americans they sound "awfully corny."

An American naval band on one of the islands off Australia gave a concert shortly before "Madame Tokyo" went on the air. Its members suddenly heard Tokyo rebroadcasting a number which they had played in America a couple of months before. In other words, they were entertained by themselves at Hirohito's expense.

County P.T.A. Officials Scan Recent Activities

At the final meeting of the school year for the board of managers of the Twin Falls county council of the Parent-Teacher association last reports were heard from chairmen and group representatives, and tentative plans were laid for next year's activities.

A report on child health activities was given by Mrs. Nora Fritcher in the absence of Mrs. H. H. Burkhart, the health chairman. She stated that more than 75 children were given physical examinations, including heart and lung check-ups, diphtheria immunizations and smallpox vaccinations, in the three pre-school clinics already held.

Clinics have been held for Bickel, Lincoln and St. Edward's schools. The Washington clinic has been scheduled for Tuesday and Thursday, May 2 and 4, from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m., at the public health unit.

Health Needs

"Children cannot be frozen at a certain stage of growth and development, war or no war," stated Mrs. Fritcher, "and at each stage of growth there are certain health needs that must be taken care of. Neglect in childhood cannot be compensated for in later years; health measures cannot be put off until some leisurely tomorrow."

She stated that any child not examined at one of the earlier clinics in the summer round-up program has been urged to attend the Washington clinic.

Reports on the school lunch program were given by Mrs. Blanche Lackey, who explained the Smith-Ellender bill now before congress. This bill would put administration of the program under the U. S. office of education and state and local school departments of education.

Safety reports were given by high school Principal John D. Flatt, who outlined plans for next year's safety work.

Convention Reports

A publicity report was given by Mrs. Vic Gardner, state publicity chairman, and reports on the state P. T. A. convention held recently in Idaho Falls were given by Mrs. Pete Hisler and Mrs. N. N. Johnson. They announced that the state organization is urging youth centers throughout the entire state.

Mrs. Albert Inama was elected by the executive board to the new position of council historian, and made her first report at last night's meeting.

It was also decided to inaugurate a courtesy chairman for the P. T. A. council. The post will be filled by Mrs. Kennan Whiteside, past president of the fourth district.

Next meeting of the board of managers will be held during July at the call of the president, Mrs. Alfred Pugliano.

Aides Give 500 Hospital Hours In Past Month

Display of a new chart, compiled by Mrs. Ernest Jellison, showed members of the Red Cross Nurses' Aides club have given over 500 hours of their time to the Twin Falls county hospital during the month of April, and that Mrs. Thelma Edmondson has given the most hours of anyone in the club.

That interesting news was revealed at the club's monthly informative meeting, held Monday night at the W. W. C. A. rooms. Program featured a talk on cancer control by Miss Dorothy Collard, public health nurse, and showing of two sound films on the treatment and care of cancer.

Both Miss Collard and narrator for the films stressed the fact that cancer is curable. Mrs. L. W. Folsom gave a report which showed that the cancer control fund this year is over twice that of last year. A silver offering was taken, and $6 more turned over to the fund.

Mrs. Lucille Ochsner gave a paper on intolerance.

Recent technicolor films made in Hawaii and sent to Miss Florence Bradford were enjoyed by the group. They showed particularly the flower gardens, architecture and landscape scenery of that country.

Mrs. W. I. Johnson and Mrs. Richard Clark were hostesses.

First issue of a nurses' aide bulletin was issued to each member. It is planned to make the paper a monthly affair, with each member contributing articles of interest to it. Miss Bradford will prepare a paper for the June 5 social meeting at the "Y" rooms, and the program will be directed by Miss Mary Ellen Howard and Miss Billie Kauffman, members of the second nurses' aide class which was recently graduated.

Hostesses in June will be Mrs. Howard Gillette and Mrs. LaVerne Rawlings.

CARE OF YOUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

Normal minded children have periods when they seem to be doing nothing. They go along for a time making as few motions as possible, apparently deaf to all instruction. Their mothers say, 'You'd think he never heard of heatness. I'm after him night and day.' 'He knows he should do his homework but he leaves it to the last minute and then dashes off a terrible job. What can you do?" "She loves her music but lately she refuses to practice."

There are several ways to consider when these children behave so. Are they growing fast? If they are, they slow down in mental work of all kinds and the lesson that is least their choice suffers first and most. The child who found algebra hard to master refuses to look at it when he reaches the stage of growth that uses most of his energy. He must be allowed to rest from that subject until his energies are relieved of the stress of growth.

Tired Children Handicapped

Is the child tired? Tired children cannot learn. Study the child's condition of growth, examine his physical condition, his program of work, rest, play, sleep, to learn how much he is doing and how tired it is making him. Then adjust his program so that he can live inside it with a comfortable margin of energy left.

Growth uses children's energy and they are inclined to waste a lot of it, too. They are likely to play so hard that they become fatigued to the degree where their nerves no longer register any fatigue. Then we say they are nervous, excitable, uncontrollable. The truth is they are tired out. Try putting the giggling, the quarrelsome, the rebellious child to rest in a quiet place. Don't scold, don't threaten, just allow him, if necessary, force him, to rest in quiet.

Restful Surroundings

The room must be quiet. The people about him quiet spoken, quiet moving. Soft music is a great help. Giving the child a pleasant story, the use of a beloved toy, or game, something restful and lovely to look at, helps greatly. But no talking about his laziness, badness, good-for-nothingness is allowed. He must be at peace in mind first, then his body will relax. Only then will he rest. Only then will the fatigue be lifted and his body renewed. He will be doing nothing, but he will be doing himself, the greatest good imaginable.

The highly skilled child will have hours of "doing nothing," too. He must have them. In these hours of apparent idleness the writer, musician, artist, restores his creative functions. Creative power takes heavy toll of energy and the highly skilled people, old and young, must have these seemingly idle hours included them as a matter of course, without grudging, without carping. Consider well the child who is "doing nothing," and make certain whether or not he needs to do just that.

Filer Bride

Mrs. Henry Orthel, jr., who was Miss Elnore Ruth Bechtolt prior to her marriage Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Bechtolt. (Staff engraving)

FILER, May 2—Standing before the elaborately decorated fireplace at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Bechtolt, Miss Elnore Ruth Bechtolt exchanged nuptial vows with Henry Orthel, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Orthel, Filer, at impressive single ring ceremonies performed by Dr. E. L. White at 3:30 p. m. Sunday, April 30.

Yellow and white blossoms, greenery and white ribbon streamers decorated the fireplace, on either side of which was tall pedestals, draped in softly flowing white, which held white tapers in crystal holders. An alabaster bowl of daisies on the mantel completed the background.

Nuptial Music

Preceding the ceremony, the tapers were lighted, and as the bride entered on the arm of her father, the wedding march was played by Miss Janice Ramsey, who also played soft background music during the ceremony.

Only members of the immediate families, and Mr. Sundgren, grandfather of the bridegroom; Mrs. E. L. White, Mrs. Ernest Theener and Miss Ramsey were in attendance.

For her marriage, the bride chose a smoke gray dressmaker suit with white accessories, and a corsage of orchids.

Miss Betty Orthel, dressed in a tailored suit of black with corsage of red roses, was maid of honor. Ernest Theener was best man.

The bride's mother wore a dress of dusky rose, and the bridegroom's mother wore an afternoon gown of Alice blue. Both had corsages of gardenias and rosebuds.

Immediately following the nuptials, guests were served from a damask covered table which had as a centerpiece a beautifully decorated wedding cake, baked by the bride's mother. On either side were tall yellow tapers in silver holders. The bridegroom's mother presided at the coffee service.

Mr. and Mrs. Orthel, jr., left that afternoon for a wedding trip to Boise, and upon their return will be at home on a farm four miles southwest of Filer.

Both are graduates of Filer high school with the class of 1943.

Pre-Nuptial Parties

A number of pre-nuptial courtesies have been arranged the past weeks in honor of the bride, including a miscellaneous shower given by the bridegroom's mother and his sister, Betty, and parties given by Mrs. C. Smith, Mrs. Fred Munyon and Mrs. Earl Ramsey.

Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Bechtolt entertained informally for Mr. and Mrs. Earl Moreland, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Munyon, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ramsey, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Smith and Mrs. Earl O. Walter.

Energetic War Mothers' Head Back From Trip

Mrs. Emma Balach, whose enthusiasm for the American War Mothers' activities is equalled only by her ability at organization of new chapters throughout the state, has returned to Twin Falls after spending last week in Boise and northern Idaho on business for the organization of which she is state president.

"We organized a group in Boise with 28 members," she reported, adding proudly that "this is quite an achievement since the War Mothers have tried for the last 25 years to establish a chapter there.

"Since the Veterans' hospital is in Boise, these women have been asked to do their work in connection with it," she explained, as she reported that Mrs. Myra DesRulsseaux, who belonged to the Twin Falls chapter for many years and is a gold star mother of World war I, was elected chapinin of the Boise unit.

"Mrs. Charles Murphy, daughter of the late Mrs. Agnes Fields, who was a Twin Falls gold star mother, was named vice-president. Mrs. Murphy is also a gold star mother, having learned only a short time ago that her son was killed in battle."

While on her trip, Mrs. Balach delivered a charter to the Nampa chapter which she organized about six weeks ago. Before returning, she also made official visits to chapters in northern Idaho at Kingsville, Lewiston, Kellogg and Mullan. At each of these meetings, mothers of World war II were received as members, she reported.

The state official, who said that charters for the organization are granted by congress, reported that at least three new chapters are to be organized in this vicinity soon.

NUTRITION GROUP TWO

CITRUS FRUITS

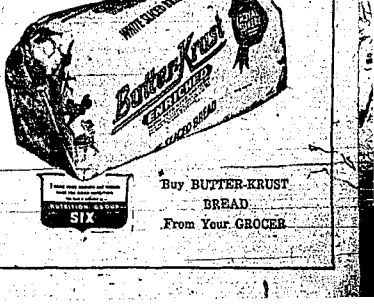

Of Course They Should Be Included in Your Diet

The citrus fruits, such as oranges, lemons and grapefruit, have an important place in the average family diet because they are rich in Vitamin C. These fruits, together with certain vegetables, are included in Group 2 of the seven basic groups of foods recommended by government nutritional experts for better wartime health. Vitamin C helps to build energy and resistance. One 6 to 8 ounce glass of orange juice, for instance, provides you with a full day's requirement of this important element. Yes, the citrus fruits have an important place in the average family diet.

BUTTER-KRUST

Should Be on Your Diet, Too!

Nowadays, when all foods in the seven basic food groups, are not always available, it's doubly important that you eat plenty of BUTTER-KRUST Bread. Why? Because BUTTER-KRUST Bread is "enriched" with many of the important elements found in these other foods. And BUTTER-KRUST is "enriched" according to the government's wartime formula for serving this very purpose. Just to be sure that you are getting your full share of necessary vitamins, remember to keep BUTTER-KRUST at the top of your order list.

Nats' Second Sacker Gets 6 Hits In Row as Bosox Are Beaten, 11-4

BOSTON, May 2 (AP) — Second Baseman George Myatt's perfect day—six hits in as many trips to the plate—spearheaded a 20-wallop attack by the Washington Senators Monday as they overwhelmed the Boston Red Sox, 11 to 4.

The victory enabled the Senators to pull within a few percentage points of the Sox, who were dropped into a fourth-place tie with the Cleveland Indians when the latter club toppled Chicago's White Sox.

While Myatt's bat was overpowering the Red Sox afield, Roger Wolff, their old knuckle-balling nemesis, was holding them fairly helpless at the plate.

Wolff also was potent at bat, collecting three hits in five trips to the plate and scoring three of his team's 11 runs. Myatt's six straight hits, the last a well executed bunt, drove in four runs and he scored three on his own account.

Indians' Rally Defeats Chisox

CLEVELAND, May 2 (AP)—A seven-run uprising in the eighth inning produced a 9 to 3 triumph for the Cleveland Indians Monday in the opener of a four-game series with the Chicago White Sox.

*Thornton (Lefty) Lee was re*moved from the box after Jeff Heath's single scored Mickey Rocco with the tying run and the Tribesmen blasted his successor, Gordon Maltzberger, for the other six tallies to notch their fourth triumph in the last five games. The big blow of the inning was a two-run double with the bases loaded by Jimmy Grant, a Chicago castoff.

Hal Kleine, 20-year-old southpaw recruit, gave the Pale Hose their three runs in the opening inning and then allowed only two singles until removed for a pinch hitter in the eighth. Ray Poat finished and received credit for the win.

George Susce, transferred from a coach to a catcher this year, drove in three runs and paced the Tribe batters with three hits.

Pep Runs String Of Wins to 70

PHILADELPHIA, May 2 (UP) — Willie Pep, Hartford, Conn., recognized by the New York boxing commission as the world featherweight champion, won his 70th victory in 71 fights last night when he scored a 10-round decision over Jackie Leamus, New York.

Pep, weighing only three quarters of a pound over the featherweight limit of 126, gave Leamus a boxing lesson, winning every round but the third in which the New Yorker appeared to have a slight edge.

The victory was the third for Pep since he received his honorable discharge from the navy last February. He ran his string to eight consecutive triumphs since Sammy Angott halted his record breaking 62 straight wins a year ago. Leamus weighed 131½.

JIMMY WILSON

...Former star catcher who resigned as manager of the Chicago Cubs.

No immediate announcement was forthcoming from Wrigley concerning Wilson's successor. Meanwhile, Roy Johnson, a veteran coach with the Cub organization, will assume charge.

"We simply all got together to see what could be done," explained Owner Wrigley. "Wilson, together with James Gallagher, (vice president and general manager) were in attendance among other. Wilson offered to resign, hoping his resignation might improve the club."

Wilson, hero of the 1940 world series as catcher with the triumphant Cincinnati Reds against the Detroit Tigers, was appointed manager of the Cubs before the 1941 season opened, succeeding Charles Leo (Gabby) Hartnett. Owner Wrigley was attracted to Wilson by his courageous performance in going from the coaching lines to the catching spot when the Reds' Ernie Lombardi was injured. Wilson, although 40, was projected into the spotlight by catching six of the seven series games and batting .353.

Under his direction, the Cubs never got out of the second division, finishing sixth in 1941 and 1942 and fifth last season.

The Bobcats were very much the best ball club yesterday as the Bruins were limited to four hits by Benny Mortensen and Wesley Bell, while Budge's lads smacked their former 7-2 conqueror, Bliss Russell, and Ted Ryan, for a total of 10.

Bobcats Score Early

The Bobcats lost little time in scoring. After Wesley Bell had gone down on a grounder to shortstop, Perkins walked and Haag singled him to third on pop fly that dropped just out of the reach of the shortstop and left fielder. Toolson, who batted in five runs during the afternoon, then singled to right and Perkins scored. Toolson went to second on the throw home and then scored when Jimmy Russell, local shortstop, tossed Wood's grounder to second, thinking a player was on first and he was starting a double play.

Bubak's double, an infield out and Klink's muff of Perkins toss of Dey's grounder gave the Bruins a run in their opening frame.

With two down, Al Starnes, the Bruins' third sacker made successive wild throws to first on grounders by Bell and Perkins and former scored with Burley's third run in the second frame. The Bobcats added two more in the third. Wagner, who had taken Starnes' place at third, bobbled Toolson's grounder and the Burley third baseman promptly stole second. Woods fanned, but Klink walked. Both runners advanced on a passed ball. Another passed ball scored Toolson and Klink came home a moment later on Loveless' single.

Bobcats Take Long Lead

The Bobcats made it 7-1 in the fourth by scoring two more runs. Ryan relieved Bliss Russell on the hillock. Mortenson singled. So did Bell and Toolson with the pitcher scoring. An infield out then put Bell across.

Wagner's single through Bell at second, a stolen base and successive errors by Wood in center and Bell sent him over the plate to give the Bruins another run in the fourth. They added two more in the sixth when Klink muffed Dey's grounder. Wagner doubled to center and Jimmy Russell singled to left.

The final two Burley runs came in the seventh on Mortenson's single, Bell's third single and Ioset's muff of Wagner's throw on Perkins' grounder.

Four successive bases on balls by Bell forced Sept, a pinch-hitter, around with the Bruins final run in the seventh.

The Bruins will meet the Eden Grizzlies here Wednesday afternoon.

Errors figured prominently in the scoring, Twin Falls making five and Burley four.

Durocher was thumbed out of yesterday's first game at the Polo grounds by Umpire Beans Reardon, which the New York Giants won by a 26 to 8 score, and Frick said the fine was levied because of Durocher's "conduct on the field, his prolonged argument and his delaying of the game.

Wisconsin Leading In Big 10 Baseball

CHICAGO, May 2 (AP)—Indiana and Minnesota—inactive to date in the 1944 Big Ten baseball scramble —entered the race belatedly this week, the Hoosiers visiting Illinois and the Gophers entertaining Wisconsin in clashes Friday and Saturday.

Ohio State, defending champion, in quest of its first victory in three games, will tackle the University of *Chicago here. The Buckeyes drop*ped their two initial encounters to Illinois, which lost its first game Saturday to Purdue by a 7-2 margin.

Wisconsin tops the circuit with three victories and no defeats, having whipped Iowa April 14 and drubbed Chicago (0-4) twice over the week end, 11-2 and 12-3. Tied with the Badgers in percentage, however, are Michigan's Wolverines who boast a perfect mark with a pair of wins over Iowa and Purdue, with its triumph over Illinois.

Hitchcock Never Allowed Polo To Become More Than His Hobby

In his 40th year, Tommy Hitchcock, right, was still at the top, rated at 10 goals along with the considerably younger Stewart Iglehart, left, and Cecil Smith.

Second of a Series

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

Tommy Hitchcock, the daddy of them all, never permitted polo to be more than a hobby. Young Hitchcock always could have had sufficient money to permit a life of leisure, but when he attained his ma*jority* insisted on paying his own way in a costly sport. Oil, coal, securities, banking and air lines, polo was not allowed to interfere with his business. The year round, 9 a. m. found him in his office.

This was especially true following Hitchcock's marriage in 1928 to Mrs. Alexander Laughlin, Jr., grandneice of Andrew W. Mellon. In the winter, he resided in New York, traveled to his office by subway. In the summer, he lived at Sands Point on Long Island, commuted in a red-winged Fairchild 24, which he parked on the East river at the foot of Wall street.

Hitchcock did not leave his office before 4:30 p.m. even during the polo season. When his team was sheduled for practice during the week, the club manager, knowing Hitchcock would not be available earlier scheduled the match for 5:30. Hitchcock broke away from the office for a couple of weeks of polo at Aiken, S. C., in April but that was the only time the game he played so well came ahead of business.

He Changed Tactics

Hitchcock starred in international combat in 1921-24-27.

In 1928 he succeeded the artist, Devereux Milburn, as captain, and immediately met a severe test of strategy. Argentina shipped a remarkable team to Meadow Brook. America barely won the first match, 7-6. How good the Argentines were became apparent when they bagged the second, 10-7. That was something new for the Americans . . . losing an international match. It hadn't happened since 1914.

Hitchcock decided long-hitting power was all that would match the whirlwind game and fast mounts of the South Americans.

He benched Mike Stevenson, who had been one of the top No. 3s for years, but who stressed short passing, finesse and defense.

Earle Hopping, Jr., only 20 but a tremendous hitter, was brought into his first important polo overnight.

The Americans went out that afternoon before 40,000 spectators to put on an exhibition of power that would have made George Herman Ruth and the old Yankees envious.

Rushed off their smooth game, the Argentines were bewildered, walloped, 13-7. Averell Harriman, at No. 1, could have sat in a rocking chair and scored as Hopping. Hitchcock and Winston Guest flailed the willow ball up to him.

As Babe Ruth and the Yankees changed the trend of baseball, to put the premium on punch, so did Tommy Hitchcock transform American polo with this one daring move.

NEXT: Tommy Hitchcock, son of a polo-playing father, was coach*ed by his mother.*

Lightly-Regard Derby Entry, Shut Up, in Speedy Workout

Things that you, and you, and you, too, didn't know until you read it here:

That the hair of Golden Wood, the Burley high school athlete, is just as golden as his name.

That there are four Bills in the Twin Falls baseball lineup — Bill Hardwick, right field; Bill Bubak, second baseman; Bill Foster, left fielder, and Bill Matson, catcher—and the first three lead off the batting order.

That Ernie Craner would be willing to wager—if he were a wagering man—that Wesley Bell, the Bobcat's all-around athlete, could beat any Magic Valley star in the decathlon —that is, 10 track and field events.

That Mr. Pot Shots is taking up golf because he can't find anyone to play tennis—his favorite sport—with him.

That only one perfect game has been bowled in the history of Twin Falls tenpins.

That the Twin Falls municipal links is the only Magic Valley golf course actually in operation at the present time.

That it will cost the high school more to get the Jaycee park lights in operation than the juice for four nights of baseball will draw from the Bruin treasury.

That Hank Powers, the Bruins' track coach, doesn't believe his weightmen are at their best with more than a day of competition a week.

That Coach Rulon Budge of Burley teaches safe automobile driving twice a week.

And that Principal John D. Flatt's son did most of his sparring while training for the junior high school championships with his dad. His dad must have showed him a thing or two in the fistic line because the laddie won a title.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 2 (AP) — The Kentucky derby fever, an epidemic that annually hits this horse-loving country, rose suddenly as one of the home town candidates turned in a sensational workout, three more eligibles arrived from the east, trainer Ben Jones wired that Pensive would be on hand and seven horses were named for today's derby trial.

While most of the leading contenders for Saturday's $75,000 pot of gold at Churchill Downs here were out on the track for some kind of workout, it was the performance of the lightly regarded Shut Up that caused the clockers to check their watches for accuracy.

Shut Up stepped off the derby distance of a mile and one-quarter in 2:05 3/5 with his regular jockey, Ralph Eccard, holding a tight grip on the reins. The time was only one and three-fifths seconds slower than the clocking of Count Fleet in winning the 1943 renewal of the turf classic.

Shut Up's workout, achieved after he travelled the mile and one-eighth in 1:52 2/5, completely overshadowed the tests of Mrs. Payne Whitney's favored Stir Up and M. B. Goff's Skytracer. Stir Up, never known as a good work horse, went the mile and one-eighth in 1:56⅘ and galloped out the additional eighth in 2:11 3/5. Skytracer stepped the nine furlongs in 1:55 3/5.

Shortly after the workouts, three derby horses, led by Mrs. A. J. Abel's Gramps Image, were unloaded from a Baltimore train. Accom*panying the surprise winner of last* Saturday's Chesapeake at Pimlico were Gay Bit from Robert Bruce Levie's Bobanet stable of Baltimore and Philip Godfrey's Comenow.

Naturally much of the interest was in Gramps Image, a hard-hitting little chestnut colt trained by his owner's husband, Whitey Abel, and a split image of his illustrious grandsire, Man O'War.

Southwest Football To Be Stepped up

DALLAS, May 2 (AP)—The Southwest conference plans 20 per cent *more football next fall than it play*ed in 1943.

The composite schedule of the six member schools carrying on the sport—Texas, Texas A. and M., Texas Christian, Southern Methodist, Arkansas and Rice—shows 40 games already to have been arranged with five more to be added.

Last year 37 games were played. Two that had been scheduled were cancelled due to transportation restrictions on the would-be opponents.

Valenzula Pitches, Bats Padres to Win

PORTLAND, Ore., May 2 (AP) — Valenzula pitched and batted San Diego to a 1-0 Pacific coast league victory over Portland last night but the Beavers won the series 4 to 3. The Padres' chucker limited Portland to four hits and drove in the lone run in the fifth.

At Portland:
San Diego ... 000 010 000—1 6 1
Portland ... 000 000 000—0 4 0
Valenzula, Cecil (9) and Hallenger; Sullivan and Campbell, Adams (9).

WOMEN WORKERS NEEDED IN OGDEN

Two civilian representatives of the army air service command, Hill field, Utah, were in Twin Falls Monday initiating their campaign for recruiting women for work in the Ogden repair depot, largest industrial development in Utah.

After speaking to high school seniors in Gooding and Wendell Monday morning, Ronald L. Benson and Grant Catmull arrived here Monday afternoon on the beginning of an extended tour of southern Idaho. They were unable to address students here. Recruiting for this area will take place May 15 in Jerome, May 16 in Twin Falls and May 17 in Burley.

Most popular job is that of mechanic's helper for which girls must spend 30 days in the post schools at the field. During that time they are paid 55 cents an hour. Upon qualifying their pay goes to 75 cents an hour.

Dormitory facilities are available at the rate of $8 each a month for a double room. Two large cafeterias are available to the more than 10,000 civilian employes at the field. Estimated cost of eating in them is $1.50 a day for each person. Transportation will be paid in advance to any applicant accepted.

The drive will be held in conjunction with the U. S. employment service, A. J. Meeks, manager here, announced.

Union Men Donate Labor at Youth Center

This was the sight as no less than 17 union workers—including carpenters, electricians and laborers—helped remodel the new Twin Falls youth center. Stripping was completed for ceiling fiber board, electrical work was practically finished and other tasks were gotten well underway by the work party. All labor was donated in line with the movement which has seen citywide cooperation for the youth project. A benefit dance at Radio Rondevoo at 9 o'clock this evening will raise funds for the center. (Staff photo-engraving)

Miss Frances Barbezat and E. H. Ferrel offered two vocal duets. They were accompanied by Miss Eva Metcilf.

Pallbearers were Alfred Theener, Lyman Engle, Homer Schnell, Dwight Ferrel, Everett B. Grieser, and Wayne Moisee, all of Filer.

May Day Baskets Given Old Folks

Dozens of maybaskets filled with fresh fruit, candy, flowers and canned fruit were distributed at the Twin Falls county farm Monday afternoon by Junior Red Cross pupils of Lincoln school, Twin Falls. According to Mrs. Roy Fuller, county farm matron, the maybasket event is an annual activity of Lincoln school pupils "much appreciated" by people living at the county farm.

"The boxes are large and overflowing with good things to eat and fresh spring flowers," Mrs. Fuller said. Boxes are attractively covered with crepe paper.

Two Wives Seek Divorce Decrees

Two divorce actions were instituted in district court Tuesday, both by wives who claimed cruelty.

Mrs. Betty Lou Carr sued William A. Carr, to whom she was married Aug. 9, 1941 in Jerome. She asks custody of an 11-month-old son and agrees that her husband should receive custody of their other son, age two.

Mrs. Artie VanEaton asked decree against Frank VanEaton whom she married Feb. 12, 1943 in Tacoma, Wash. W. L. Dunn is counsel for both petitioners.

Many Pay Honor To Daniel Black

Large numbers of persons present and many floral offerings attested to the esteem in which Daniel L. Black, owner of the Black Produce company in Twin Falls, was held by friends in this area. Mr. Black died April 28.

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at the White mortuary chapel with Bishop J. C. Frederickson of the L.D.S. church in charge.

Music was provided by a quartet, Mrs. Lyona Smith, Mrs. Bertha Brown, Mel Carter and Claude Brown, jr., accompanied by Joy Smith, and a solo by Katherine Ward, accompanied by Margaret Shupe.

U.P. Stages Fight Additional Line

GOODING, May 2—Union Pacific stage officials were present at the regular Chamber of Commerce meeting in regards to the application of another stage line to serve the Boise-Salt Lake City route.

The U. P. officials stated that a second competitive bus line would merely divide the present passenger patronage. Since the normal load factor through this sparsely settled country is only about 50 per cent, it would be inevitable that both lines would be forced to operate at a loss, they said.

After stating their case, the U. P. official left the meeting and the members of the Chamber chose a middle-of-the-road course by passing a resolution of satisfactory service in behalf of the U. P. stage company.

Legion Post to Send Magazines To Service Men

Approximately 250 men and women in overseas military service throughout the world will soon be getting the American Legion magazine, National Legionnaire, and the Idaho Legionnaire, representing the part of Twin Falls' Legion post in a nationwide project, it was said by D. Harvey Cook, adjutant.

Cook said the National Commander Warren H. Atherton has asked all Legionnaires to mail copies of the national magazine overseas after reading. This costs 21 cents in postage, Cook said, and the local post is going the national plan one better by asking that the state Legion magazine be placed in the parcel also, because it does not increase the postage cost.

The local post is bettering the plan in another way, said Cook, by asking that the Legionnaire mailing the magazines also write to the service man or woman receiving them.

The post now has a membership of 245, and that number is expected to increase to 250 in the next 10 days, Cook said.

W. W. Noble and O. T. Koster comprise the committee in charge of the project for the Twin Falls post.

Ticket Sales for Benefit at $1,500

Sale of tickets for the new Twin Falls youth center benefit dance, to begin at 9 p. m. today at Radio Rondevoo, had passed the $1,500 mark at noon, according to John D. Flatt, principal of Twin Falls high school, who said the figure would go even higher before the day is over.

Junior high students had passed the $1,000 level early this morning, he said, and were continuing in both junior and senior high throughout the day.

Bob Hughes and his orchestra will play for the affair, and Junior Chamber of Commerce members, who originally began the youth center project, will be on duty at the doors. A brief intermission program is planned.

Accident Victim's Status No Better

JEROME, May 2— Norman Atwood, most seriously injured of three youthful survivors of the auto accident which occurred near Jerome Saturday, was being closely watched by St. Valentine's hospital attendants at Wendell today. NEW WEED AREA BEING ORGANIZED

What will be Twin Falls' second weed control district to be formed by owners of land involved is now in process of organization, it was said Tuesday by J. O. Eslinger.

The exact boundaries have not yet been set, Eslinger said, but the district will be composed of land lying between the low line and high line canals, and east of the road from five points to Allendale.

The eastern boundary of the proposed weed area has not been definitely set, but Eslinger said that petitions have been signed by owners of approximately 3,000 acres of land as far as three miles east of the road which forms the western boundary.

Eslinger reported a high degree of cooperation from owners of land in the proposed weed district, and said the boundaries of the area could be more definitely announced in the near future.

If this area is declared a weed extermination area by the county commissioners, upon petition of more than half of the land involved, it will operate in a fashion similar to that of Twin Falls county weed extermination area No. 2, which has already been created for a 6,000-acre tract north of Twin Falls. The county will control weeds too long neglected by owners, and assess the costs against the property.

TAKE AWAY THE LADY

by Lester Dent

Copyright, 1944, NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Lieut. Link Bell, army air corps radioman interned in Niji prison, Yokohama, is puzzled at the over-friendliness of Captain Azaraski, commandant of the prison, who invites Link to his home for dinner. He is further amazed at being introduced to the other two guests. Both are white women, Tilda Courtright and Norma Greer. Both are white women. The abundance of food proves too much for Link after prison rations and he excuses himself.

* * *

G. I. KISS

VIII

Norma Greer took Link by the arm. "I think I saw a balcony over here," she said helpfully.

The balcony which they found was open gratefully to fresh air and the stars. "Are you going to be sick?" Norma asked.

"That's not a kind question," Link muttered, embarrassed.

"Nonsense. I know how you feel. A stomach will take just so much."

Link wished his head was clearer. "How," he asked, "would you know about stomachs,"

"What do you think I am?"

"You're not a prisoner of war?"

"But I am," she said. "I am in jail. I'm an interned Chinese national."

Azaraski had come out with them. Now he seemed satisfied Link was going to survive the stomach upset.

Leaning over the balcony rail, Azaraski whistled. Two soldiers with rifles came tramping in the garden below. Azaraski waved at them, and told them in Japanese to keep an eye on the balcony. "Now you can stay out here," Azaraski told Link in English. "They won't be taking a pot shot at you."

Azaraski went inside.

Link looked at Norma. "I'm sure proud of my weak stomach," he said.

"What's there to be proud about?"

"Why, without it, we might have been enemies all evening," he explained. "Look here, you're not Chinese."

"I am a naturalized Chinese citizen," she said. "But I was born in Oklahoma.

* * *

"Oklahoma," Link said. "I figured it to be Iowa, Missouri or Illinois."

He was delighted with everything. He felt fine. He felt so good that it was a little silly.

"Courtright," he said. "Is she interned, too?"

"Yes."

"Courtright seems to be quite a person," Link said. "She was telling me she knew your family well."

"She has known the family a long time." She changed the subject rather abruptly. "How are you feeling?"

"Fine. A lightning recovery." Link assured her. He added, "About the time I left home, they were working out in a rash called zoot talk. In zoot, to invite a girl to dance, you asked her to give with the feet. Want to?"

"Are you in any condition?" she asked doubtfully.

"I'm fine," he said.

At first their dancing was awkward. It dawned on them that they were both out of practice, and they laughter together, then they got along better.

The phonograph ran out of records. Link maneuvered Norma out on the balcony again. "This is swell," he said. "I like it."

"I guess we both do," she said.

"You're not mad at me any more?"

"Not very."

"This is good," he said, and he kissed her.

The response to his kiss was disappointing. Rather, there was no response, and that disappointed him. It was distinctly a G. I. kiss.

The effect on himself was blurred. It was a long time since things had blurred from kissing a pretty girl.

"Lord!" he muttered. "Good old Link! Good old come-out-bounding-and-barking Link!"

* * *

"I'm not angry," Norma said.

"I can tell you aren't," Link said. "I should have known ahead of time you wouldn't be angry. They never are."

"You mean they never take you seriously?"

"Yes. Why is that?"

She examined him thoughtfully in the moonlight. "Sometimes, it might have been your imagination," she said.

Link felt uncomfortable.

"One day I want to do that again, that time with permission," he said.

She did not comment. She took his arm and they went inside.

Azaraski apparently had been on the verge of coming out to get them.

"Sorry folks," Azaraski said. "Party's over. Getting late, you know."

A servant brought Norman's wrap and thoughtfully handed it to Link to him to hold. Norma stood with her back to Link as he helped her on with her wrap.

Link wanted to go woof! into the pleasant wheat of her hair. He didn't. But he certainly was inspired.

Link said a goodby that sounded calmer than he felt.

The two women left in a separate car. Azaraski gave Link a quick trip back to Niji prison. The soldiers in the other car followed them back. Link changed out of the new uniform, back into the ragged outfit he had worn for weeks in the cell.

In the dark and smelly cell, Link felt around in vain for his blanket. Someone had stolen the blanket. He returned it. "So you got back," Baldwin asked.

Link grinned in the darkness. "I got electricity," he said. Which was exactly how he felt.

EMBARGO ON OIL TO SPAIN LIFTED

WASHINGTON, May 2 (U.P.)—The United States, hinting that the invasion may cut off all exports from Spain to Germany, today lifted its embargo on oil shipments to Spain in return for a Spanish agreement to cut wolfram exports to Germany to 25 per cent of the 1943 total.

The United States had held out for several weeks for a total embargo on wolfram—a mineral used for hardening steel—but settled for the 75 per cent cut "on the urgent request of the British government."

The agreement was negotiated by the United States and Great Britain during three months of discussions in Madrid. It also provides for:

1. Expulsion of "designated axis agents" from Tangier, the Spanish zone in North Africa, and from the Spanish mainland.

2. Closing of the German consulate and other axis agencies in Tangier.

3. Release of certain Italian merchant ships now interned in Spanish waters.

4. Arbitration on the disposition of Italian warships also interned in Spanish waters.

The Americans and British also were assured that all Spanish military forces have been withdrawn from the eastern front.

The agreement becomes effective at once, although it was pointed out at the state department that Spaniards could not expect to get any oil for about 45 days—the time necessary for Spanish tankers to come to the Caribbean oil areas, load, and return.

"Burlesque" Show At Jerome Grange

JEROME, May 2—More than 60 members and guests attended the Jerome Grange meeting in the Legion hall where an all-men's program, "Rehearsal-less Living Statue Burlesque" was presented.

A "gay nineties" presentation was by H. C. Egelus and Glenn D. Vining, who played the parts of the Goldsmith sisters. They were dressed in pastel pink frocks, with lace picture hats and silk umbrellas. Gus Callen appeared as a wild-west cowgirl riding a spirited steed. Mr. Egelus also appeared as a modern-day bride.

The character in the "Home Sweet Home" scene was Art Hart as the husband. The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Petersen also took part. Frank McVey was reader of the burlesque and described each of the scenes.

Eleven guests attended the meeting and preceding the program a business session was presided over by Master Leon Stockton. Members voted in favor of beginning meetings at 8:30 p. m.

War Hero

SGT. BEN KUROKI
. . . two DFC's and the air medal are the prizes of this Japanese American aerial gunner who arrived in Twin Falls last night. A celebration in his honor will be held at Hunt.

* * * *

Air Hero's Just Tired Farm Boy; Dreads Speeches

Arriving here en route from the Hart Mountain, Wyo., evacuee camp to the one at Hunt, Sgt. Ben Kuroki, the 25-year-old Japanese American aerial gunner and recipient of two DFCs, turned out to be a soft-spoken and tired farm boy who wishes all the speeches he'll have to make were finished so he could get back overseas.

The Hershey, Neb. youth was grave as he spoke of the raid on the Ploesti oil fields (for which he received his first DFC) when, during the low level bombing attack, he could see his buddies downed on all sides of him, but not before the mission had accomplished what it set out to do.

Fought Rommel

Shy and obviously tired from a 36-hour bus trip, the veteran of the first bombing of Rome told of being with the first force of Liberators in the European theater which was called from its base in England to one in north Africa when Rommel began to appear threatening.

And, in order of their occurrence, he told of the invasions of Sicily and Italy, flights over Naples and flights over Rome, but never boasting or mentioning his own part, just anxious to get it over with and get to bed.

Doesn't Wear 'em

He wasn't wearing either of his DFC's or his air medal with the clusters, but admitted that he had them. The second DFC came after the completion of 25 heavy bombing missions.

After the celebration at Hunt in his honor (he is No. 1 war hero of the Japanese American Nisei), he hopes to return to Colorado Springs airbase for overseas assignment, but he's afraid the war department may have other plans for him.

GLENNS FERRY

Albert and Marvin Wood, Hammett, are now based in New Guinea and in Australia, according to word received from them.

Keath Morgan, Fort Benning, Ga., has received a private first class rating.

O. Dee Walker has been advanced to the rating of aviation radioman first class. He is stationed at Memphis, Tenn.

George Poe, railway operational division, stationed at Lincoln, Nebr., has been advanced to the rank of sergeant.

Sgt. Louis T. Daniels has been transferred from Los Angeles, Calif., to Camp Polk, La., in the armored artillery division.

Kay M. Hoalst, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hoalst, Hammett, has been chosen for training as a radio technician in naval training school, Del Monte, Calif.

Air Cadet Jack Newell has been moved from Milwaukee, Wis., to Iowa City, Iowa, for further training.

A change in name of the former Zachery-Bey mortuary here and in Mountain Home has resulted in the Felix Bey mortuary, since Mr. Bey became owner of the business recently.

Word received here states that Joe Gambon is now a technical sergeant, stationed in England.

Regular meeting for May will be held by the Commercial club members here May 10.

Melvin Smith, Hawaii, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Smith, Hammett. He has been in defense work and expects to join the navy soon.

August Schmid, father of Mrs. E. W. Hayes and the night pumper for the railroad at Hammett, was summoned to Georgetown, Ia., by the serious illness of a sister.

Charles Brown returned home to Hammett from Grover, Wyo., reporting that Mrs. Brown's mother is in failing health. Mrs. Brown remained there.

Earl Davis, who underwent an appendectomy in Pocatello two weeks ago, has been brought home to Hammett.

FULL PROBE INTO WARD CASE URGED

WASHINGTON, May 2 (U.P.)—Chairman Adolph J. Sabath, D., Ill., of the house rules committee said today that congressional investigation of the Montgomery Ward and company seizure should also determine whether some group is deliberately trying to stir up wartime friction between capital and labor.

After denying accusations that he was seeking to block a resolution by Rep. Charles S. Dewey, R., Ill., for a special investigation, Sabath told reporters:

"I am seriously considering an exhaustive investigation—perhaps by amending the Dewey resolution—to find out who is behind Mr. Avery (Sewell Avery, Montgomery-Ward board chairman) in this defiance of the government.

"The investigation should be exhaustive to the extent of finding out why Avery has taken his attitude, find out if there is some group—operating through Avery—which is attempting to create trouble between capital and labor while we're in a war."

Sabath charged that during the last two years "Avery has taken up the fight against organized labor led up to that time by Tom Girdler of the Republic Steel Corp."

He added that Ward's has "made millions" during "the so-called bad new deal," and that Avery has become wealthy in the company's employ while certain lesser company employes, "including some key men, are receiving small pay averaging between $22 and $24 a week."

Miss Laura Mae Lowry, San Jose, Calif., is visiting at the Ernest Molsee and T. C. Anderson homes. She is a niece of Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Molsee, and was recently graduated as a nurse from the San Jose hospital.

Mrs. Hugh Bemenderfer, Mrs. Carlo Sacco and children and Miss Billy Bemenderfer, Ogden, Utah, returned to Ogden after attending funeral services for Charles Bemenderfer.

Mrs. Earl O. Walter has returned from a visit with relatives at Akron, O.

Young people of the M. B. C. church presented a program of readings and musical numbers Sunday to replace the regular evening service.

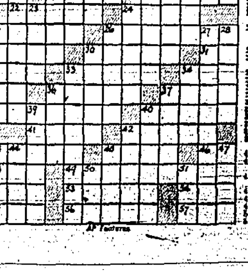

Mrs. Katie Allan, who has been expecting her son, Sgt. Harvey Allan, to come home on furlough after overseas duty in Italy, asked the Twin Falls Red Cross unit to investigate. She discovered that until he is relocated he will be unable to take his furlough. He had telephoned he would be home several days ago.

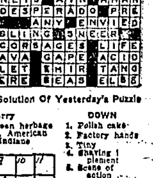

Mrs. Gilbert Smith will be hostess Thursday to the W.S.C.S. with Mrs. E. D. Vincent in charge of the program.
